

EVTA is . . .

The European Voice Teachers Association e.V. is an umbrella organization serving teachers of singing across Europe. Founded in 1989 by a group of 20 visionary teachers, EVTA today represents more than 4000 individual members in 23 countries who teach singing in all current and traditional styles at all levels of singing including children and amateurs, students and high-level professionals.

Reflecting the diversity of European culture, the member organizations have individual profiles and vary vastly in size, scope and resources. Membership in a national association automatically grants individuals the privilege of taking part in EVTA activities.

EVTA endeavours to complement the work of the national associations by offering projects not possible on a national level, furthering networking and exchange, and forging into new developments in voice pedagogy and research.

Past activities include the European Vocal Pedagogy Week, the Young Professionals Programme (YPP), EUROVOX 2018 in The Hague and projects sponsored by the European Lifelong Learning Leonardo da Vinci Program (European Vocal Pedagogy 2008-2010, Digital Resources in Vocal Pedagogy 2010 - 2012, Leo Sings! 2013-2015).

EVTA also participates in the activities of the International Congress of Voice Teachers (ICVT) and actively cooperates with voice researchers and phoniatricians through affiliation with the Pan-European Voice Conference (PEVOC)
